

VOU News for You

VOUCA Management Newsletter/January 25, 2016

The Big Dig-Out Begins

Snow snow snow – for all of you snow lovers out there, are you happy now? Now that the snow is on the ground:

Round 1 – a single driving lane will be opened in all areas. In alleys that attach to county roads, VOU crews cannot get in until the county has cleared the streets. The county specifically instructed VOU crews to wait until they have opened the county roads. We have waited as long as we can, but we are trying to get into some areas to get started. This single driving lane will push snow back onto cars and sidewalks, some of which we know have been cleared once already.

Round 2 – after the single driving lane is opened with heavy equipment, a second crew in lighter equipment will enter and REMOVE snow, first from the middle of the streets and then from around the cars.

Round 3 – sidewalks will be cleared throughout the process by other crews that will continue moving through the community and re-opening sidewalks that get blocked in.

Emails will continue to be sent out with updates. Watch your emails. Please do not call the office. We have been so busy answering calls that we cannot do anything else! Everyone is in the same frozen boat. We appreciate your patience.
